WILL BANQUET VISITING BUYERS

A. P. Walker Will Entertain Prominent Jersey Cattle Fanciers at Windsor Hotel Tonight.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB WILL SING

Everything is in Readiness For the Sixth Annual Auction at Jersey Isle Farm Tomorrow.

The Walker Jersey cattle sale will be officially opened tonight when A. P. Walker will entertain the visiting buyers with a banquet at the Windsor hotel. The auction will begin promptly at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning. The banquet is an annual custom, coming previous to the sale. It was served at the Walker country home at the Jersey Isle stock farm last year.

The banquet which will be held at the hotel tonight is planned as a sort of a good fellowship feast when all of the visiting buyers talk and express their views on Jersey cattle. The banquet at the Walker home last year was a very enjoyable affair. All of the cattle fanciers are asked for toasts and many rich and entertaining ones are given, generally to the Jersey. Music by the Girls' Glee club under the direction of T. A. Craig will be on the program tonight. The club is composed of the Misses Martha Hogsett, Hazel Cox, Ruby Norris, Florence Frazee, Frank Clark, Nancy Hogsett and Georgia Wyatt.

Prominent Jersey cattle fanciers from all parts of the United States were coming in all day to attend the sale tomorrow. Mr. Walker expects the largest aggregation of buyers that ever attended any sale in previous years. The weather predictions for tomorrow are favorable and if the weather man is right an immense crowd is expected to attend.

Two tents have been erected in the field adjoining the stock barns, one for the cattle show ring where the auction takes place and the other for the dining room. Meals will be served there all during the day. Several other stands will be on the ground so that the sale will take on the aspects of a county fair. Raised seats have been constructed in the auction tent to accommodate the large crowd of buyers and spectators who are expected to attend.

The Jerseys to be sold are all in first class condition and are being sleeked up for the show tomorrow. Several head are expected to bring good prices. Minister, a Jersey bull with a pedigree several inches long, is expected to bring the banner price of the sale. It is believed that he may sell for a larger price than Derry's Golden Jolly, who brought $11,000 at the auction last year.

MAY BUILD NEW STATION

Manilla Citizens Encouraged by the Report of Pennsylvania Officials.

For the past few months the citizens of Manilla have been after the Pennsylvania Railway company to erect a new depot there and officials who were there recently stated that they would send in a favorable report to the head offices in Pennsylvania, says the Shelbyville Republican. It is thought the company will put in a block signal station along this branch from Columbus to Richmond, as reports are to the effect that several fast trains from Louisville to the East will pass through this city within the next six or eight months, and that this will be made one of the company's main lines.

BUSINESS MEN.

A special meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association will be held in the court house Wednesday night. Every business man in Rushville knows by this time the purpose of that meeting. It is earnestly requested that every business man in Rushville be present. It is for the good of the association, for the good of Rushville and lastly and most important for the good of every business man in the city of Rushville. Announcement has been made in the Daily Republican every night since the regular meeting last Thursday night for the special meeting tomorrow night and it will be an unpardonable sin for any business man to have for an excuse that he did not know of the meeting.

REMONSTRATORS WORKING QUIETLY

Farmer, Who Has Taken Active Part, Said That Practically Enough Signatures Are Obtained.

TO DISCOURAGE PETITIONERS

The question of dredging Flatrock has been comparatively quiet for the past few days, but the remonstrators claim that they have also been working quietly, thus the general quietness. One of the farmers to be affected by the proposed drain, who has been taking an active part in the remonstrating, said today that the remonstrators had practically enough signatures to stop the improvement without it going to court. He said that the remonstrators would get a few hundred over the required number to make up for any withdrawals which might take place. He said, however, that no remonstrator had ever signified his intention of withdrawing. The remonstrators plan to get such an overwhelming number of signers that the petitioners will be discouraged and not file the petition again.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD IN ILLINOIS

Mrs. Eva Simms Smithley Succumbs at the Home of Her Parents in Mattoon, Ill.

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH

Mrs. Eva Simms Smithley, formerly a resident of this city, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Simms in Mattoon, Ill., of lung trouble yesterday morning. Mrs. Smithley had been in poor health for several months and her death had been expected. She was taken ill at her home in Chicago, but was later removed to the home of her parents.

Miss Daisy Simms, sister of Mrs. Smithley, is now in Berlin, Germany, attending the international convention of the Young Woman's Christian Association. She is one of the speakers at the convention and has gained considerable reputation as a worker in the Y. W. C. A. She deferred her visit to Europe once on the account of her sister's poor health, but later went, thinking that she was improved. The funeral services of Mrs. Smithley will be held at the Simms home in Mattoon, Ill., tomorrow. The body will be shipped to Humboldt, Ill., where the burial will take place.

TO WHOOP IT UP FOR LON MULL

Local Democrats Went to Richmond Today to Attend Sixth District Congressional Convention.

SAY IT'S MULL AGAINST FIELD

Two "Dark Horses" Are Mentioned—Rev. Kuhn to Richmond Expects Largest Vote on First Ballot.

A large majority of the prominent Democrats of Rush county went to Richmond this morning to be present for the Sixth district congressional Democratic convention which will be held there tomorrow. Several others went up this afternoon in order to be present for the morning session of the convention which begins at ten-thirty o'clock.

The local politicians went up to the Wayne county seat with the intention of fighting to the last ditch for Lon Mull of Manilla, who is one of the five candidates. The local contingent expect to make some demonstration and to do all they can for their favorite son. They believe that he has a better chance than any other candidate whose name will be placed before the convention.

And the local people are not the only ones who believe that Lon Mull will be the choice of the convention. The newspapers all over the Sixth district are nearly all of one opinion. It is conceded that it will be Mull against the field of four candidates, who are as follows:

The Rev. Thomas H. Kuhn of Richmond, W. S. Chambers of New Castle, Finley Gray of Connersville and Lewis Fetterman of Brookville. In addition there are two "dark horses" mentioned, one of these being John S. Osborn of Greensburg, district chairman, and the other, John M. Dantz of Richmond.

It is estimated that the Rev. Mr. Kuhn will rally the strongest support to his banner on the first ballot. It is said that Kuhn will pull 54 votes, Mull 24, Gray 23, Fetterman, 13, and Chambers, 17. The matter of votes on the first ballot is merely guess work and cannot be estimated accurately. However, local politicians figure that the field will help Mull and he can win over Kuhn in that manner.

Lon Mull will start off with thirteen from Rush county. His friends recently have revised Mr. Mull's claim on an entire Shelby county delegation. It is said that the Kuhn workers have gone into Shelby county for something like half the delegates.

The Mull claim of considerable support in Hancock is being discounted somewhat in reports from that direction, which indicate that Mr. Kuhn, who was born in Hancock county, has some active friends in that direction, who are ready at this time to deliver the goods. The Kuhn people were able to make State delegates in Hancock, and they are assuring all comers that they have not lost their cunning in the congressional matter.

On the surface it appears that Mr. Mull and Mr. Kuhn are the leading candidates. All those who aspire concede that the field must overcome Mr. Kuhn. The Mull men say that the man from Manilla can land in the Democratic camp some 200 Republican votes through family and other affiliations and personal popularity.

WILL BE BUILT THIS SUMMER

Work of Tearing Down Mauzy Room to Begin—Bank Building to be Started Middle of June.

HELM TO ERECT NEW BUILDING

Seven Business Houses Will Change Their Location in the Course of a Few Months.

A number of business changes are now or will be in progress which will affect the location of seven different business houses. With the beginning of the changes will also come the beginning of the erection of the new bank structure at the corner of Main and Second streets. The plans of the architect for the building to be occupied by the Rushville National bank will be accepted in the next few days. After that about two weeks will be taken up with the advertising for bidders on the erection of the building. It is expected that the contract will have been let and that the work of tearing down the old Mauzy building at the corner of Main and Second streets will be started about the middle of next month.

With the tearing down of the Mauzy building and the building of a new structure there will also come another improvement. The building adjoining, owned by William Helm and occupied by the A. L. Aldridge grocery store, will be destroyed and a new one erected in its place. Mr. Helm has not yet hired an architect to draw up the plans, but he expects to start the wheels moving in a few days. The contract for the building will be awarded and the work of tearing the old structure down will be started about the same time as that on the adjoining building. Mr. Helm will put up a modern building very similar to the one to be built by the bank.

The A. L. Aldridge store will be moved two doors east to the room formerly occupied by the O. P. C. H. for temporary quarters until the Helm building is completed. Casady & Cox, who are now located in the Mauzy building, have completed the interior repairs in their new room in the Gantner building in Main street and started moving this afternoon.

The Kennard jewelry store, which is now located back of the Casady & Cox shoe store in the back end of the Mauzy building, will be moved to the Tyner room in which the Gale pool room is now located. Workmen were busy today moving the fixtures in the Gale pool room to the room in Main street, formerly occupied by the Denny & Evans "dry" beer parlor. The Kennard jewelry store will have the Tyner room only as temporary quarters until John Kennard can get possession of the room at the corner of Main and Third streets now occupied by the Farmers banking company.

John Kennard recently purchased the Farmers bank room, but will not be able to move there until September first, when the bank will give possession. The bank will be moved into the room belonging to the Hackleman heirs, now occupied by the Poe jewelry store. The future location of the Poe stock is not decided upon as yet.

FALMOUTH EXERCISES.

The Falmouth high school commencement exercises will be held in the Odd Fellows hall there tomorrow night. The Rev. J. W. Turner, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church will deliver the address.

The Band of Workers of the Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon.

IS NEARING COMPLETION

Watson Home in Main Street Will be Finished About August 1.

Workmen are gradually bringing to completion the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Watson at the corner of Main and Eighth streets. It promises to be the most imposing residence in the city. A large and spacious veranda is being built and the former structure is being completely overhauled. All of the gables, of which there are several, are being finished in pebble dash, the same as that used on the new Red Men Wigwam.

ROBBERS CONFESS THEIR REAL NAMES

Three Men Who Are Held in Greensburg For Local Theft Here Committed Other Crimes.

SERVED TIME IN REFORMATORY

The three men in the county jail, arrested last Thursday afternoon for the robbery of a residence in Rushville, and who some hours later confessed to Sheriff Paterson to the robbery of the Crooks store in this city, have made another confession, in which they claim to give their right names, says the Greensburg News. The men first said they were Charles Henderson of Danville, Ill.; Will Harlow of Danville, Colo., and Homer Marion of Indianapolis, but now they say they are William Lingo, William Borden and George Stevens, all of Indianapolis.

All the men have served in the reformatory at Plainfield. In this institution Borden was known as No. 4926 of Company 9, and Stevens as No. 6311, Company 8. Monday night of last week the men claim to have robbed the Valley Ford saloon in Indianapolis. Lingo says that Borden, previous to the Crooks robbery Tuesday night, held up and severely beat a man in the Greensburg yards.

DISEASE RAVAGES THE HIGH SCHOOL

Students Are Suffering With Pink-Eye and Measles—Vacant Seats Stare at Teachers.

MEMBER SENIOR CLASS IS ILL

Pink-eye and measles are making deep inroads on the high school students so that the last days of school which are generally days of joy and pleasure, are days of pain and confinement for many of them. Several pupils are now out of school suffering with the pink-eye. It is not a dangerous disease, but one which keeps the patient confined.

The measles has claimed more victims than the other disease. The high school teachers are forced to see many vacant seats staring them in the face and there is only one answer—the measles. Scarcely a day passes that one or more students do not go home with symptoms of the measles.

Miss Relia McBride, a member of the graduating class, is ill at her home near Mays. She was unable to be present for the baccalaureate sermon Sunday night and may not be able to attend the commencement exercises.

HUSTLE CORN INTO GROUND

Rush County Farmers Were Busy Last Week Planting Between Showers.

CROPS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Wheat and Oats Are Doing Nicely But Fruit Prospects Are Disappointing.

Corn went into the ground rapidly throughout Rush county last week. The farmers had to work between showers, but they kept pretty steadily at their job, with the result that a goodly part of the planting is done. Corn that was planted early has done little good, the cold weather not being conducive to growth. Most farmers feel that if they can get their planting completed by the end of the current month, they will be well abreast of the season and will have confidence that the opportunities for a crop will still be good.

Although the weather has not been to the farmers' liking as regards corn planting, it has suited them pretty well as regards wheat and oats. Wheat especially has been making a fine growth. Many fields that looked unpromising following the March drouth are now looking surprisingly good. Unless something arises between now and time for the crop to mature Rush county will have it is believed an average yield of wheat.

Oats are doing nicely. The warm rains of the last two or three days have been a great help. The acreage of oats is large, though not up to that of last year, and if conditions continue auspicious, Rush county ought to have an enormous crop.

Potatoes, which have been backward because of the cold weather, are doing nicely now. Peas have looked good all the time and at present are developing luxuriantly. Most gardens have not been making satisfactory progress up to this time, but the warm rains and hot sun are helping them out splendidly.

The growers who supply the canning factories are setting tomato plants from the hotbeds and transfer them to the fields. They believe that summer is at last here and have decided to put out the tomato plants and let them take their chances.

Meadows are good and pastures promising. Livestock throughout the country is doing well. There is little disease amongst hogs and nearly every farmer has a bunch coming on. The high prices that hogs have been bringing the last few months have encouraged the farmers to give especial attention to their swine. They believe the prices will continue good, and it is a matter of common knowledge that nothing on a farm grows into money as rapidly as a healthy hog.

Fruits are not promising. Strawberries are going to be very scarce, as far as local patches are concerned. Conditions are better as regards raspberries and blackberries, but a full crop of neither is expected. Grapes are not looking good, apples got the worst of it in the winter, and, along with them, suffered the peaches and cherries, and a good many of the plums.

On the whole however, crop conditions in Rush county are well up to the average. With seasonable weather from now on, the year probably will be one of bountiful crops of all kinds, excepting, of course, the fruits.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Wednesday except showers tonight in southeast portion.

CENSUS REPORT ON LONGEVITY

Declares That Actual Number of Centenarians Are Very Small And Not as Reported.

RECORDS REVEAL FEW ERRORS

Extremely Unlikely That Age of 110 Years Have Been Reached and Never Exceeded.

Washington, D. C., May 23—A chapter concerning reported centenarians is contained in the Census Bureau's latest annual mortality statistical report prepared by Chief Statistician Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, of the division of vital statistics.

The report affirms that it is undoubtedly true that the age of 100 years is occasionally attained. It suggests that it is perhaps doubtful whether, as shown by incontrovertible evidence, the age of 110 has ever been reached or exceeded. This would, it is stated, set the possible longevity of man or the extreme span of human life, somewhere between 100 and 110 years.

Dr. Wilbur declares that it would be a fact of vast interest to humanity if it were true that a human being lived 150 years or 140, or 130 years, or even 120 or 110 years, as established by exact observation. The capability of the bodily mechanism would be tested and it might be inferred that, with better hygiene, superior eugenics and proper methods of living the extreme limit of life might more frequently be attained and that after many generations the average of humanity might perhaps approximate to this limit.

The report goes on to show that up to very recent times the most incredible reports, the most inaccurate statements, and the most uncritical methods of study have been believed. Since Thoms' investigations in 1873, great skepticism has arisen in the minds of many in regard to the reputed ages of centenarians and the report declares some have even stated that there were no actual cases of centenarians on record in spite of the official returns of population and deaths to that effect.

As an example of the uncertainty attached to individual statements of extreme longevity the case of the oldest reported decedent is cited. The death was that of Noah Raby, known as "the oldest man in the country," and it occurred in the year 1904. Reference to the census office transcript, which was returned by the State registrar of New Jersey, shows the original death certificate related to the death of Noah Raby, stated to have occurred in Middlesex county on March 1, '04 at the age of 131 years and 11 months. The conjugal condition of the decedent was not stated; the birthplace of the decedent and the birthplace of his mother were given as "U. S."; the birthplace of father was not stated; and the cause of death was given as "senility"—an entirely satisfactory statement in this case.

"Centenarians and More.—Sophia Gab, probably the oldest woman in Chicago, died there last week. She was supposed to be 129 years old. Born a slave she spent most of her life on a plantation near Richmond, Va. When released from slavery during the civil war she was 87 years old. A still more remarkable story of longevity is contained in the notice of the death of Noah Raby, in New Brunswick, N. J., on March 1. It is asserted with much circumstantiality, that he was born in Gates county, N. C., on April 1, (significant date) 1772, so that he lived one month longer, he would have been 132 years old. He entered the United States navy about as soon as the United States had a navy, and after serving a number of years was honorably discharged in 1809. He never married, but had smoked and chewed tobacco for 122 years and had at one time been a heavy drinker."

Search was made of the records of the Navy department and a report was made by Surg. F. L. Pleadwell of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, that "a Noah Raby has been found on the rolls of the Constitution in 1839, when that ship was under the command of Captain Bolton, so it is possible that the report of his discharge from the navy as being of the year 1809 is pure legend. There may have been, of course, two Noah Rabys."

The census report then goes on to state that the enumerators' returns of the Twelfth census (June 1, 1900), shows that Mr. Raby was then an inmate of the Piscataway township almshouse, and his "age at last birthday" was 128 years, and the month and year of birth, "April, 1772," as given in these returns correspond with the age subsequently stated upon his certificate of death. His birthplace, as well as that of his father and of his mother, is given as North Carolina; his conjugal condition as single; and under the head of education it is stated that he could read and could not write. At the Eleventh census (June 1, 1890), Mr. Raby's age "at nearest birthday" was given at 117 years, the other particulars being the same as stated in 1900, except that his mother's birthplace was stated as Pennsylvania. No record was found of Mr. Raby among the inmates of the almshouse at the Tenth census (1880), but his name appears among those there enumerated at the Ninth census (1870). In the returns for the census his "age at last birthday" was stated to be 59 years, and not 98 years, as it should have been if the subsequent statements as to his age were correct, and his birthplace was given as South Carolina and not North Carolina. Birthplace of his parents were not reported at the Ninth census. It appears not unlikely that the statement of age made in 1870 was at least approximately correct, so that at the time of his death at an advanced age, March 1, 1904, he was over 90 years old (92 years and 11 months) if the statement of age made in 1870 is precise, and not an actual centenarian at all, much less the "oldest man in the country."

The report later on states that it would be impracticable for the Bureau of the Census to determine the truth in regard to all unusual ages which are received upon the official transcripts of death, nor can the state or city offices be expected to investigate all such cases. Indeed, the evidence necessary for conclusive proof of extreme longevity in any given case may be extremely difficult to procure, even when the fact exists. This is true for European countries, as shown by Thomas and Young and it is even more true for the United States, for a great part of which, even at the present day, there is no complete registration of births. The statements in regard to the ages of decedents are made informants, and can not, as a rule, be questioned or rejected by registration officials. Such statements are, undoubtedly in the vast majority of cases, believed to be correct by the persons who reported them, and, when officially registered, becomes, like the other statements upon a certificate of death, prima facie evidence of the facts. Any statement upon a certificate of death may, however, be refuted by sufficient evidence of its untruthfulness. It is well known that many of the statements of exact age, even in middle period of life and in youth, are not strictly correct. In old age, with impaired memory, with possible unintentional confusion of what has been heard and what has been actually experienced by the individual in regard to the events of early years, after the death of contemporaries whose testimony might contradict claims to excessive longevity, and with the well known tendency of many aged persons to exaggerate in the utmost good faith, the number of years that they have lived, it is not at all surprising that many unfounded claims to extreme old age arise. The deaths of centenarians reported by the census are too few to vitiate seriously the statistics, even if in every case the age was incorrectly stated, and they are therefore shown just as they were returned.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Was the day Louis Chevrolet got his Buick car all harnessed up. Loco, Knox, Stoddard, Apperson, Fiat and other cars were racing for the big Cobe Cup. Bill Mead timed Chevrolet a mile a minute, they say, with his Buick; all other cars he passed. Cyrus joined the crowd as they called aloud. Chevrolet made the grand-stand gasp. INDIANA POLITICS

(Special Correspondence.)

Indianapolis, May 24.—The Kuhn Democrats, united with the Marshall crowd, are trying hard to prevent the Taggart-Shively Democrats from controlling the Sixth district Democratic congressional convention at Richmond tomorrow. The fight is extremely bitter. It has gone so far already that it will be very difficult to line up Democrats for the congressional nominee, no matter what Democratic victim is presented for consideration. The Kuhn men are asking John Kern's friends in the district to rally for the twice-defeated Richmond minister-politician. These Kuhn partisans urge that Kuhn sacrificed much for the Marshall idea and aided largely in making it possible for the Democratic state convention to select Kern for United States senator. They say Mr. Kuhn ought to be treated well by Kern and his friends on this account. But the Kern men, the really close ones, are taking their coaching, these days, from Taggart and the bosses. If Kern had anything to say it probably would be smothered by the large, fat hands of the brewers who have taken his campaign in charge. It is a life or death struggle for Kuhn, and the chances seem to be about even.

To show how anxious the Taggart men are to defeat Kuhn, witness the fact that within the last day they have been doing by every means and method known to politics to induce W. F. Lontz of Wayne county to enter the congressional contest, split Wayne and take the nomination away from Kuhn. Mr. Lontz has said that he would not take the chance. He is willing to permit Dr. Kuhn to have not only the nomination but the defeat that goes with it. He sees that with Democratic party strife as it now exists, no man can unite the factions and win. Starting with a considerable Republican plurality against them, the Democrats realize that they have got to poll all their own votes straight, and a lot of Republicans besides. It seems that Dr. Kuhn, the twice-beaten, is willing to whirl once more and face the Republican party foe. W. F. Lontz, business man, is willing that Dr. Kuhn shall do the fighting again. The fact that efforts are being made to break into Wayne county with a new candidate goes to show that Dr. Kuhn's organization may be a lot stronger than the Taggart men bargained for. So the outcome of the Richmond convention of Democrats continues a puzzle.

The Lebanon convention of Ninth district Republicans, which opened this forenoon with Finley P. Mount of Crawfordsville as chairman, is another of those political puzzles. Banker E. C. Bowen of Delphi, Carroll county, is a possible late-coming factor in the Ninth. It has not been generally believed that Mr. Bowen would consider the congressional nomination. His financial interests are large, varied and growing. He is a raiser of blooded cattle and wins blue ribbons every year on heifers. He was owner of the champion heifer at the Indiana state fair last year, and he takes more joy in perfect cattle than in politics or its rewards. But he has been mentioned seriously as a dark horse in the last few days.

Howard Mountz of Garrett has been nominated by the Republicans for judge of the circuit court in the Dekalb-Steuken circuit. Judge E. A. Bratton, now on the bench, refused to run for a renomination, holding that Dekalb county, and not Steuben, ought to have the nomination this year. The nomination was made by acclamation, and the utmost good feeling marked the convention. It is confidently asserted that Judge Mountz will be elected. He is a member of the law firm of Mountz & Brinkerhoff. He was born in Steuben county in 1871. He graduated from the DePauw university law school in 1894. He has practiced law at Garrett since 1895. The law firm with which he is now identified was formed in 1904. Judge Mountz has had a large practice. He is a hard worker and a speaker of unusual ability. He expects to make an active campaign for the whole Republican ticket in Steuben and Dekalb counties.

Smith Askren of Harrison county, Democratic representative who voted for Senator Shively in 1909 while instructed by the home folks to vote for John W. Kern for United States senator, is another one of the secret ballot caucus members who found the voters aroused against trickery and double-dealing. As a result of the Askren vote for Shively and against Kern, the representative was opposed strongly for renomination, and won by only four votes. It is said he will be defeated at the polls on the Kern betrayal issue.

The Oldest Horse Dead.
Poughkeepsie, May 24.—What was probably the oldest horse in the world, "Punch," the petted scion of a famous line of polo horses, and himself the cleverest of his strain, is dead at the farm of A. T. Jones in Hyde Park. "Punch's" remains were interred with all the respect and care that could be accorded a human being, in the front yard of Mr. Jones's home, where a monument on which will be inscribed a record of his achievements and virtues will be erected. "Punch" was forty-five years old on May 12.

Princeton overwhelmed the Harvard baseball team, winning by the score of 7 to 1 and, having won the first game, is the victor in the annual meeting.

Last Days of School

Have you grown so old that you cannot appreciate the feeling of the small school boy this week. Can't you imagine just how he is treading the air counting the minutes until the last book will be shut, the last gong sounded, and he will march from the building for the last time for three months? Can't you see the spirit of freedom bubbling out all over him as he skips along the street whistling and occasionally yelling out for pure happiness? Not a care, not a worry—nothing but a feeling that for three months he will be free.

The total of what the school children learn this week could be placed in a thimble. But there has to be a last week. The boy's mind is too full of visions to let any dry book knowledge in.

"Why not the girls, too?" you ask. Maybe they are, but girls are different. Sometimes you actually find girls who are sorry school is out. Anyway girls can't have visions like boys—small girls that is. Who ever heard of a real boy being sorry school was out? If there ever was such a boy he lost every friend he had by telling it.

Get a composite picture of the visions the boys of eight, ten and twelve years are having this week and you will see a lot of pleasant scenes. On this side you see a farm scene, an aged man and woman, big horses that like to carry you on their backs, a dog that is ever ready to play, a branch that is fine to wade in and in the distance the trees that line the fishing streams. That boy is thinking of the happy days he will spend at grandpa's.

In the middle of the screen you will see another scene. There's the big sycamore, the birds flying around, the piles of shade, the green grass. With his back to you is the small boy partially concealed by a big straw hat. He is carefully watching the cork which is floating on the water in front of him. He is getting a nibble. That boy is already knee deep in June.

But now the scene shifts. We have a baseball diamond. It's the last half of the ninth inning, there are two "men" out, a "man" on third, and the score tied. To make it a real vision the hero of course must be at bat. He swings once—and misses the ball. He swings the second time—and again whiffs the air. The third time he swings, meets the ball "square on the nose" and makes a home run. There's fire in that boy's eyes as he dreams of the days when "his nine" can play any old time without regard to school hours.

For the next three days get the spirit of the small boy. Get him to tell you about his visions. It will take you back to the days when you too hated shoes and Sunday in hot weather.

Other Indiana cities are doing business in industrial lines that is astonishing everybody who hears of it. What are the reasons for their wonderful success? Simply because they work at it long and faithfully and are willing to invest a little money temporarily in order that they may realize largely later.

It is said that "there is nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream." But consider the sweet girl graduate arrayed in all the glory of commencement week, during this time when all nature smiles as if in joyous anticipation of the crowning glory of the fair young girl's life. Dear, sweet girl! Just now her happiness is complete, all the world is at her feet and not a cloud on her horizon but has a silver lining. Arrayed in garments of pure white there is no fairer sight in this leafy month of May than the bright and sparkling and beautiful girl just budding into womanhood, as she stands before an audience of admiring friends to read her valedictory of her school days—the happiest period in her life. There is no pessimism in that essay—every word and syllable and paragraph bristles with optimism of the most glowing kind. Dear, sweet girl! What a blessing it would be if all the fond dreams of her school-girl life could be realized in the days to come. But "into each life some rain must fall" and it is sure as fate that some, perhaps many, of her future days must be dark and dreary.

New Reading Room.

Rushville is soon to have one of the things it has needed badly for many years—a public reading and rest room. The county superintendent's room will soon be fitted up for that purpose, the books will be shelved, and a competent librarian placed in charge.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, the people who so liberally contributed books, and the men who arranged for the room in the court house have made this new reading room possible. The D. A. R., of course, deserves the lion's share of the praise for it was that society which has kept hard at work until everything has been arranged. The value of this work can not be overestimated and it is believed the people of Rush county will show their appreciation by making use of the new room when it is ready.

Already there is a valuable outlay of books and it is hoped the stock may be made more valuable as the people begin to realize the importance of the new institution. The supply of books now includes valuable works of fiction both for juveniles and adults, reference books and scientific works. These will now be available to every individual in Rush county as long as he obeys the rules which will necessarily be made by the librarian. Heretofore those who were not able to buy the books they wanted and who did not have access to a good school library have been forced to depend on their friends and in many cases do without the books.

In addition to the educational advantages, the rest room feature will be a big thing. Altogether the new institution will be a credit to the city and county and the people should show their appreciation to those who have made it possible by taking an interest and if possible increasing its value.

It's a Just Claim.

Rush county Democrats are making a noble effort to have Lon Mull nominated for congress at the Sixth district convention which will be held at Richmond tomorrow. Mr. Mull seems to have a good chance of landing the place although he has some strong opposition.

The candidacy of Mr. Mull is a bit out of the ordinary. He was mentioned several months ago as a probable candidate, but he laughed at the idea—just how sincerely nobody seemed to know. Then the Democrats of Rush county began urging him to be a candidate, but he refused and several flat denials that he was a candidate were published both in local and Indianapolis papers. Then the Shelby county Democrats began urging Mr. Mull to be a candidate and several others over the district did the same.

It seems, however, that the Manilla man did not need the urging that he was seriously considering the proposition all the time. At the meeting of the Sixth district chairmen here to set the date for the district convention the subject was mentioned and he "consented" to be a candidate. However, he did not wish to make any formal announcement to that effect, but simply allowed the newspapers to make the announcement for him—apparently on speculation.

Tomorrow Mr. Mull will go before the convention asking the nomination and the Rush county delegation is demanding that his claims be recognized. And they have a right to make the demand. Certainly no one can deny that he is not a logical candidate and comes from a county which has not had the honor for some time, as far as Democrats are concerned. If the convention turns down the claims of the local Democrats it will likely cause some sores in the district for the Rush county contingent feels that its claim is just and that the Manilla man is just a little better than all the other candidates. Meanwhile the district is watching to see what the convention tomorrow will do.

EDITORIALETTES.

Tom Taggart said while in Washington Sunday that the Democratic State convention did just right in selecting John Worth Kern as the senatorial candidate. Marvelous statement, gentlemen, marvelous.

Monday's weather proved conclusively that the weather man has not forgotten how to be disagreeable.

The Marion county primaries are being held today. Tomorrow we may expect the usual charges of graft.

After having received so much advice in the baccalaureate sermon and the commencement address, the problem of going out and making mistakes in life will be as easy as ever for the high school seniors.

If President Taft would only follow the advice of Indianapolis and Chicago papers, he would make a big hit—with the editors of the papers.

When you hear a man whistling on rainy days now he is either an optimist or simply happy because housecleaning has been postponed for another day.

The school kids have a kick coming. Decoration day, a holiday, comes after school is out.

Somebody will be accusing those eight legislators—charged by J. W. Kern with accepting bribes—of having press agents out giving them notoriety. The silence of Mr. Kern and the Democratic party in general seems to stamp them as heroes.

Some men seem to find fault easier than they can friends.

The Dodge Growth

The growth of this great industry makes one of the most interesting chapters of the Nation's business history.

From a cradle in an old frame mill 31 years ago, the Dodge Company has expanded to cover about nineteen acres of floor space today. It employs more than 1200 operatives.

The THIRD DEGREE

A Narrative of Metropolitan Life

By CHARLES KLEIN and ARTHUR HORNBLOW
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

(Copyright, 1910, by G. W. Dillingham Company.)

Capt. Clinton frowned. He didn't like suggestions of that kind after a confession which had cost him five hours' work to procure.

"Suicide?" he sneered. "Say, doctor, did you happen to notice what side of the head the wound was on?"

Dr. Bernstein reflected a moment.

"Ah, yes. Now I come to think of it, it was the left side."

"Precisely," sneered the captain. "I never heard of a suicide shooting himself in the left temple. Don't worry, doctor, it's murder, all right." Pointing with a jerk of his finger toward Howard, he added: "And we've got the man who did the job."

Officer Delaney approached his chief and spoke to him in a low tone. The captain frowned and looked toward his prisoner. Then, turning toward the officer, he said:

"Is the wife downstairs?"

The officer nodded.

"Yes, sir; they just telephoned."

"Then let her come up," said the captain. "She may know something."

Delaney returned to the telephone and Dr. Bernstein turned to the captain:

"Say what you will, captain, I'm not at all sure that Underwood did not do this himself."

"Ain't you? Well, I am," replied the captain with a sneer. Pointing again to Howard, he said:

"This man has just confessed to the shooting."

At that moment the front door opened and Annie Jeffries came in escorted by an officer. She was pale and frightened, and looked timidly at the group of strange and serious-looking men present. Then her eyes went round the room in search of her husband. She saw him seemingly asleep in an armchair, his wrists manacled in front of him. With a frightened exclamation she sprang forward, but Officer Delaney intercepted her. Capt. Clinton turned around angrily at the interruption.

"Keep the woman quiet till she's wanted!" he growled.

Annie sat timidly on a chair in the background and the captain turned again to the doctor.

"What's that you were saying, doctor?"

"You tell me the man confessed?"

Crossing the room to where Howard sat, Dr. Bernstein looked closely at him. Apparently the prisoner was asleep. His eyes were closed and his head drooped forward on his chest. He was ghastly pale.

The captain grinned.

"Yes, sir, confessed—in the presence of three witnesses. Eh, sergeant?"

"Yes, sir," replied Maloney.

"You heard him, too, didn't you, Delaney?"

"Yes, captain."

Squaring his huge shoulders, the captain said with a self-satisfied chuckle:

"It took us five hours to get him to own up, but we got it out of him at last."

The doctor was still busy with his examination.

"He seems to be asleep. Worn out, I guess. Five hours, yes—that's your method, captain." Shaking his head, he went on: "I don't believe in these all-night examinations and your 'third degree' mental torture. It is barbarous. When a man is nervous and frightened his brain gets so benumbed at the end of two or three hours' questioning on the same subject that he's liable to say anything, or even believe anything. Of course, you know, captain, that after a certain time the law of suggestion commences to operate and—"

The captain turned to his sergeant and laughed:

"The law of suggestion? Ha, ha! That's a good one! You know, doctor,

"Sitting There Crying Your Eyes Out Won't Do Him Any Good."

them theories of yours make a hit with college students and amateur professors, but they don't go with us. You can't make a man say 'yes' when he wants to say 'no.'"

Dr. Bernstein smiled.

"I don't agree with you," he said.

"You can make him say anything, or believe anything—or do anything if he is unable to resist your will."

The captain burst into a hearty peal of laughter.

"Ha, ha! What's the use of chinning? We've got him to rights. I tell you, doctor, no newspaper can say that my precinct ain't cleaned up. My record is a hundred convictions to one acquittal. I catch 'em with the goods when I go after 'em!"

A faint smile hovered about the doctor's face.

"I know your reputation," he said sarcastically.

The captain thought the doctor was flattering him, so he rubbed his hands with satisfaction, as he replied:

"That's right. I'm after results. None of them Psyche themes for mine." Striding over to the armchair where sat Howard, he laid a rough hand on his shoulder.

"Hey, Jeffries, wake up!"

Howard opened his eyes and stared stupidly about him. The captain took him by the collar of his coat.

"Come—stand up! Brace up now!"

Turning to Sergeant Maloney, he added, "Take him over to the station. Write out that confession and make him sign it before breakfast. I'll be right over."

Howard struggled to his feet and Maloney helped him arrange his collar and tie. Officer Delaney clapped his hat on his head. Dr. Bernstein turned to go.

"Good-morning, captain. I'll make out my report."

"Good morning, doctor."

Dr. Bernstein disappeared and Capt. Clinton turned to look at Annie, who had been waiting patiently in the background. Her anguish on seeing Howard's condition was unspeakable. It was only with difficulty that she restrained herself from crying out and rushing to his side. But these stern, uniformed men intimidated her. It seemed to her that Howard was on trial—a prisoner—perhaps his life was in danger. What could he have done? Of course, he was innocent, whatever the charge was. He wouldn't harm a fly. She was sure of that. But every one looked so grave, and there was a big crowd gathered in front of the hotel when she came up. She thought she had heard the terrible word "murder," but surely there was some mistake. Seeing Capt. Clinton turn in her direction, she darted eagerly forward.

"May I speak to him, sir? He is

RED HEADS

Whenever You See a Woman With Lustrous Auburn Hair You Can Wager That She Uses Parisian Sage.

The girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle and every carton of Parisian Sage.

But that isn't why the lovely girls with the brilliant and fascinating profusion of Auburn hair always recommend Parisian Sage.

They know as do thousands of their dark haired sisters that there is no preparation for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage. The sales throughout America this last year were nothing less than phenomenal.

It will stop dandruff in any man's or woman's hair in two weeks or money back; it stops falling hair and itching scalp almost magically.

Has wonderful ability to turn harsh, dull, faded hair that many women possess into luxuriant radiant and fascinating hair in a few weeks.

It is a delicately perfumed tonic that is not sticky or greasy, that gives a refreshing and invigorating feeling to the head the minute it is applied. Rub it in, it will make your hair grow.

Fifty cents for a large bottle at druggists everywhere and at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s. After using one bottle of Parisian Sage, the ordinary tonics will never please you again. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

my husband."

"Not just now," replied the captain, not unkindly. "It's against the rules. Wait till we get him to the Tombs. You can see him all you want there."

Annie's heart sank. Could she have heard aright?

"The Tombs!" she faltered. "Is the charge so serious?"

"Murder—that's all!" replied the captain laconically.

Annie nearly swooned. Had she not caught the back of a chair she would have fallen.

The captain turned to Maloney and, in a low tone, said:

"Quick! Get him over to the station. We don't want any family scenes here."

Manacled to Officer Delaney and escorted on the other side by Maloney, Howard made his way toward the door. Just as he reached it he caught sight of his wife who, with tears streaming down her cheeks, was watching him as if in a dream. To her it seemed like some hideous nightmare from which both would soon awaken. Howard recognized her, yet seemed too dazed to wonder how she came there. He simply blurted out as he passed:

"Something's happened, Annie, dear. I—Underwood—I don't quite know—"

The policemen pushed him through the door, which closed behind him.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

Eczema—A Germ Disease Can Now be Cured.

The Medical profession is all agreed that ECZEMA is a germ disease, but the thing that has baffled them is to find some remedy that will get to the ground and destroy them.

Zemo, the clean, external treatment has solved this difficulty by drawing the germs to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease. The whole method of treatment and cure by ZEMO is explained in an interesting book on the subject issued by the makers of ZEMO. It tells how to cure yourself at home of Eczema, Blackheads, Pimples, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at F. E. GOVERNMENT GOING AFTER LUMBER TRUST

Combination to Control Prices Is Alleged.

Washington, May 24.—The department of justice is going after the lumber trust. It has become known here that for several months agents of the department have been investigating an alleged combination among the lumber dealers with the idea of beginning prosecution for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. Just how soon proceedings will be begun or where such action will be taken was not divulged.

It is the belief of officials here that practically every concern of consequence in the country is interested in the combination, and it is suspected that those in it fix the price of lumber and even go so far as to dictate to the several members to whom they shall sell.

The department is making the investigation on the idea that prices are artificially maintained, just as they think they are kept up by the beef trust and other alleged combinations which deal in foodstuffs.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!" And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unvarnished and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the Stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when return. Dr. Shoop will pay the drug-gist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—for I have appointed an honest and responsible drug-gist in almost every community, to issue my "no money risk" medicines to those who need them. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private personal advice plan. My best effort is yours. So write now, while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

LORIMER WILL MAKE DEFENSE

Illinois Senator Preparing to Address Senate.

WILL ASK AN INVESTIGATION

It is Said That Senator, Upon Whose Title to Seat a Cloud Has Descended, Has Come to Conclusion That He Owes It to Himself and to His State to Answer the Charges and Invite an Official Investigation.

Washington, May 24.—Senator William Lorimer, who arrived in Washington Sunday, is expected to make a speech in the senate tomorrow in which he will probably review political conditions in Illinois, explain the motives of some of the people who are attacking him, and conclude by expressing a desire that the senate make the fullest possible investigation into the charges of bribery in connection with his election to the senate. This program may be varied some, but his closest friends understand that he has about concluded that he owes it to himself and his state and to his colleagues in the senate to answer the charges and invite an investigation. Senator Lorimer has not appeared at the capitol since his arrival in Washington. He has kept close to his room in the hotel and it is said he is at work preparing a speech or statement in reply to charges against him. The senator has asked newspaper reporters to excuse him from making any statement at this time.

Close friends say that at the time the charges were launched he was much occupied with the work attending the opening of two banking institutions in Chicago of which he is the president. He was in no position, it is added, to turn aside from his financial undertakings until these were fairly under way. That having been accomplished, the senator collected all the available material relating to the charges and started to Washington to confer with his political friends and determine the best course to pursue in answering the charges.

TORRINGS FROM EARS

Lawrenceburg Man Held For Brutal Assault Upon Woman.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., May 24.—John W. Clark, aged thirty-three, a mute, of Aurora, was arrested on the charge of brutally assaulting Miss Eva Griffith, aged thirty-nine. In default of a $3,000 bond he was locked up. Miss Griffith was found in an unconscious condition lying in the Big Four railroad yards here. She had been struck on the head a number of times with a club and then robbed. Her ears were torn when her gold earrings were jerked out, and two rings were taken from her fingers.

PARDON REWARD FOR TESTIMONY

President Releases Oliver Spitzer From Prison.

PROMISED TO TELL HIS STORY

When the Man They Thought Was Safely Confined in Federal Prison Was Called as Government Witness in Sugar Trust Trial, the Defense Was as Surprised as if the Ceiling of the Courtroom Had Fallen.

New York, May 24.—Oliver Spitzer, who was convicted last February and sent to Atlanta penitentiary for the sugar weighing frauds done under his personal supervision on the docks of the Williamsburg refinery of the sugar trust, appeared as a witness for the government at the trial of Charles R. Heike, the secretary of the company, and five other employees.

Just before Spitzer took the witness stand to tell all he knew of the sugar frauds, there was thrust into his hands a pardon from the president of the United States. It was signed by President Taft on May 19, the day following a confession Spitzer made to Special Prosecutor Stimson. The pardon was kept until the very moment that Spitzer was called, however.

On the stand Spitzer described in detail the weighing frauds and gave evidence connecting Gerbracht, the general superintendent, and Bendernagel, the cashier, who are among the present defendants. He did not complicate Heike, with whom, he said, he had only a slight acquaintance, Heike being in the Wall street office all the time. It did not appear as if the government was desirous of drawing Spitzer out much, and after he finished testifying he was hustled up to the grand jury room, where he remained two hours. Then he was allowed to go to his home in Flatbush.

Had the ceiling of the United States circuit court room suddenly fallen upon them the five lawyers representing the defendants could hardly have been more greatly surprised than they were when Prosecutor Stimson suddenly called out the name of Oliver Spitzer and they saw walk into the court room, behind the towering form of Chief Flynn of the secret service, the man all supposed to be in the big federal prison at Atlanta taking his medicine. Their surprise was even greater when he pulled from his pocket in response to their objection a pardon from the president on which the ink was scarcely dried, and which had been obtained without a hint of it even becoming public. One of the things that Spitzer testified to was that from the time that they were ostensibly suspended following the discovery of the frauds right up until they were sent to jail, the sugar trust paid the wages of himself and the checkers convicted with him, the money being brought to him by Gerbracht at Spitzer's house and Spitzer distributing it to the others.

The fact that the payments stopped when Spitzer started for Atlanta and the others for Blackwell's Island may probably account for the statement Spitzer made when he left for the penitentiary when he remarked bitterly that the company had made a scapegoat of him after twenty-nine years of faithful service, because somebody had to go to prison to save those higher up.

DEMAND HIGHER SALARIES

Preachers Cannot Live Decently Under Present High Rates of Living.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 24.—The high cost of living is driving some of the best young men out of the ministry, according to reports made before the Presbyterian general assembly. Dr. E. L. Hynes of Indiana declared that "no young man can enter the ministry and secure enough to live decently under the present averages of salary." Delegates who took part in the discussion favored a general raise in salaries, especially in the smaller churches.

Hearing of the case against the New York Presbytery for heresy following the admission of Messrs. Steen, Fitch and Black into the ministry after they had refused to accept certain of the tenets of the church, will be brought before the convention and the trial will be one of the sensations of the meeting, which continues until Saturday.

Big Navy Champions Win.

Washington, May 24.—Two battleships, each of 26,000 tons, will be added to the American navy as a result of the senate's action on the naval appropriation bill. The house already has authorized two battleships. This is the third year in succession that congress has voted such an increase to the navy. The naval appropriation bill carries about $134,000,000.

Death to the Dogs.

BIG WEEK FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Annual Encampment Indiana Department G. A. R.

TERRE HAUTE OPENS HER ARMS

Preparations Have Been Made on a Large Scale For the Entertainment of the Visiting Veterans and the Thousands Who Will Gather as Interested Onlookers During the Annual Meeting of the Veterans.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 24.—The program for the thirty-first annual encampment, G. A. R., department of Indiana, this week, has been completed and a busy week is promised. Contrary to usual custom, the annual parade of the old soldiers will be held on Wednesday, the first day of the encampment. The parade will be followed by the dedication of the soldiers' and sailors' monument erected by Vigo county at the courthouse ground. In the evening a reception will be given by the officers of the G. A. R., the W. R. C., and the Ladies of the G. A. R., at the Indiana State Normal hall. On Thursday afternoon the business meeting of the veterans will be varied by a fish fry at the site of Fort Harrison. The general business meeting will be held on Friday and the encampment will come to an end that night with a mimic naval and land battle on the banks of the Wabash. This land and water battle is to be on a big scale. The fireworks to be used in connection with it are to be more elaborate than seen in any city of the size of Terre Haute, perhaps. The fish fry at old Fort Harrison will be for a thousand or more, and only the old soldiers and visiting mayors of Indiana cities will participate.

Mayor Gerhardt has sent a program of the entertainment of mayors of Indiana cities to the guests. They are to be taken over the city in automobiles Thursday morning. They will march in a body in the parade that afternoon, and in the evening they will have a social session, with refreshments, at the German club. In his letter the mayor says: "Nothing will be prohibited except speeches."

The decorations are up and the city has been put in readiness for visitors by a week of cleaning up. The various subcommittees, working under the direction of General Chairman Filbeck have given their time for ten days, making sure the comfort of all who come to the city.

FEARS FOR YOUNG GIRL

Ruth Lewis Missing From Elwood, Evidently Lured From Home.

Muncie, Ind., May 24.—The police of eastern Indiana cities, especially those of Muncie, have cast a dragnet for Ruth Lewis, aged twelve, of Elwood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis, who mysteriously disappeared from home last Thursday. A few hours after her disappearance the parents of the girl received a note postmarked Muncie, in which she said she had taken $35 of her father's money and that her parents would not see her again. She advised them not to worry. It was found that the girl had purchased a railway ticket from Elwood to Muncie.

The girl is described by her parents as appearing to be several years older than she really is. The child is attractive. That she has fallen into evil hands is the fear of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, who say that because of their daughter's youth she would be an easy victim of designing persons.

If your Stomach, Heart, or Kidney are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerves. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by F. E. Wolcott.

DEAD BODY IS FOUND IN BARN

Young Man, Identity Unknown, Had Probably Been in Deserted
Barn Six Months.

CAMBRIDGE CITY HAS MYSTERY

John Boyd Makes Growsome Discovery—Clothing Indicates That Man Was Well Dressed.

The vicinity of Cambridge City is aroused again by a mystery which, like others that have occurred in that neighborhood, may never be explained.

On the farm of Len Boyd, a mile east of the city, Sunday morning was found the decomposed body of a man, a stranger apparently, whose identity will probably never be established.

The body was found by John Boyd in a barn which has not been used for a long time. Sunday morning young Boyd went to the barn to turn in some horses and the stench he noticed led to the discovery of the decomposed body.

The body was in such bad shape that even the man's age could not be ascertained with any degree of accuracy, but it is thought that he was a young man, probably twenty years old. The clothing appeared to have been good, especially the shoes. There was nothing in the pockets that would lead to identification.

Whether the man met with foul play or not is not known, but there are no wounds on the body that would indicate violence. It is thought by some that the man was sleeping in the barn when he was attacked with heart trouble or some suddenly fatal illness.

It is thought that he had been dead for probably six months. The clothing on the body contained a trade mark showing that it had been made by "The Square Deal" clothing company at Chicago.

LIQUOR MEN ARE FINED IN COURT

Denny and Evans Pleaded Guilty to Liquor Law Violation and Pay
$50 and Costs.

SUSPENDS 6 MONTHS SENTENCE

William Denny and Curt Evans, former proprietors of the "dry" beer parlor in Main street, have pleaded guilty to the charge of liquor law violation. They were fined fifty dollars and costs and given a six months jail sentence. The jail sentence was later suspended by Judge Will Sparks. The trial was set for hearing on Monday. The indictment was returned by the last grand jury in the same manner that the other indictments for liquor law violations were returned. The liquor law violation case against August Roth, in which a jury disagreed once this term, will be tried yet this term.

ORIGINATE NEW FLIM FLAM GAME

Machine is Perfected Which Will Make One Pound of Butter Into Two Pounds.

GIVE WARNING TO MERCHANTS

Scheme Has Been Worked But Pure
Food Inspectors Are Watching
For Any Violations.

Probably without any intention to defraud by placing on the market a machine which, in the hands of dishonestly inclined persons has already caused the government officials much trouble, some unknown person has perfected what is known as a Merging machine, which will make one pound of butter into two. By the addition of a pint of milk, the pound of butter is placed in the machine and violently churned until the whole mass becomes solid and a person who was inclined to cheat could make money very fast as butter brings a good price.

But the government has taken steps to prevent this and the mixture of milk and butter in this manner is under the law's ban the same as the manufacture of butterine. To engage in this business a total license of $1200 a year would be required so there is not apt to be many engage in it.

No person, however, is barred from using it for their own individual selves in their homes but restaurants, groceries and all other public places wherever butter is sold in any way cannot use the machine without paying the license.

Frank W. Tucker, pure food inspector, has issued a warning for the instruction of housewives in detecting the product of this machine from genuine butter. He states that it can readily be distinguished by cutting with a knife. The bogus product will cling closely to the knife, while the pure butter will not be inclined to.

He also advises dealers in butter to be careful from whom they buy, as if the contraband article is found in possession and they cannot tell where it came from, the government proceeds on the theory that they do not want to tell or seek to shield some one, and prosecutes just the same as if the dealer were guilty of the adulteration himself.

Pure food inspectors have instructions to pay considerable attention to butter within the next few weeks on account of the introduction of these new machines and local merchants will do well to be constantly on their guard.

MOON VIED WITH COMET LAST NIGHT

Total Eclipse Which Continued Over an Hour Attracts Attention From Other Heavenly Performer.

COMET SETS TONIGHT AT 10:26

The total eclipse of the moon was visible in Rushville last night and was witnessed by many people over the city. The eclipse began early in the evening and was total shortly after eleven o'clock. It lasted until after midnight, when the moon began to emerge from behind the earth's shadow, which cut it off from the sun's rays. The moon bid fair to vie with Halley's comet as it attracted considerable attention, which was taken from the other celestial vaudeville performer.

Few people if any have seen the comet since it passed into the western heavens. A few people exist who think that they have a faint glimpse of something similar to the comet, but they are not certain. It was impossible to see it last night on account of the clouds, as has been the case the other evenings. It sets in the western horizon tonight just south of the point where the sun sinks at 10:26 o'clock. Tomorrow night it sets at 10:47 o'clock.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

HERNLY KNOWS.
(New Castle Times.)

Charles S. Hernly of New Castle, always a good booster and one who knows the game from A to Z, speaks the truth when he says:

"The development of any community depends entirely upon its citizenship. The greatest resource in any community is the resourcefulness of its citizens. They must be alive and alive continually. Everybody should show a willingness to help and assist the people they are asking to come into their community and build factories and go into industrial movements. We have signed up with a great company to build its plant here, the Universal Motor Co. No city in Indiana has ever located a better proposition with such tremendous future possibilities. Here is a plant that will be employing twelve to eighteen hundred hands within the next eighteen months, and will be large enough of itself to build a nice little city. No kind of plant can be located in New Castle that will create as much advertisement for this city as the Universal Motor Co. Their products will be sold all over the United States and in practically every civilized country of the world New Castle will be discussed everywhere as never before."
